Environmental Management Systems

ISO 14001

Business Challenge

Your company's outward reputation can be enhanced by demonstrating care for the environment with the help of proven green credentials. The appropriate management of environmental issues contributes positively to costs savings and gives a company a competitive edge. Increasingly, many organisations will only consider doing business with a company that can demonstrate its own responsible approach to the environment.

Business Solution

ISO 14001 Environmental Management will reduce your waste and give you a smaller carbon footprint; it will also assist in reducing your tax, energy and insurance bills and lower your environmental liability. Join the increasing number of businesses today, demonstrating their commitment to the environment by implementing actions towards compliance throughout your operations.

What is ISO 14001?

ISO 14001 is applicable to any size or type of organisation and specifies the requirements for the formulation and maintenance of an Environmental Management System (EMS).

ISO 14001 will help your company to reduce its carbon footprint and lower costs. This international standard will allow your company to set up a fully integrated and effective EMS that will streamline operations, allocate time and resources more effectively and increase overall efficiency.

Based on the Plan-Do-Check-Act cycle, ISO 14001 can be used as a tool; it focuses on identifying, controlling and monitoring the environmental aspects of your organisation and how to manage and improve the whole system.

What are the key benefits to your business?

- Supply chain advantage: Demonstrate your environmental commitment to clients that take an active interest in the environmental performance and credentials of their suppliers.
- Increasing sales opportunities: Enhance your businesses ability to win contracts with proven credentials.
- Financial improvement and savings: Identify, implement and maintain efficiencies and cost reductions.
